

As the Tannery Marketplace approaches its 25th anniversary owner David Hall has established the “Tannery Video Scrapbook” contest, a fun-filled way for the community to help mark the anniversary of this popular Newburyport gathering place and win free Tannery gift certificates in time for the holidays.

Each entrant will automatically receive a ten-dollar gift certificate to spend at one of the Tannery’s many popular shops. Each of the contest’s three grand prizewinners will receive a hundred dollar Tannery gift certificate. Visitors to the TanneryMarketplace.com website will vote to determine the contest winners.

The contest aims to record a unique history of this landmark building complex by asking Tannery visitors, employees, neighbors or anyone in the community to submit their personal stories about their experiences at the Tannery. Hall encourages contestants to submit a broad range of stories including memories of a first job, a special relationship that started at the Tannery, or a child’s first music classes; descriptions of a time when it was a functioning Tannery; thoughts about how the Tannery has become a community center over the last quarter century or other ways it has impacted the city.
